Bibliography of Woolf Studies Published in 2002
(in progress)

The following is a compilation of scholarship on Virginia Woolf published in 2002. It is produced and maintained for The International Virginia Woolf Society at FITS at DePauw and the University of Toronto, the host site for the International Virginia Woolf Society website. My sources include various electronic databases plus information provided by friends of Woolf everywhere. I make no claims to be exhaustive, but I do try to be comprehensive. (Apologies for the lack of consistency in accent marks; the whimsies of electronic reproduction are to blame.) If you have items to add, or corrections to offer, please send them to me at afernald@depauw.edu. Or mail them to me at 8679 East State Road 240, Fillmore, IN 46128.

--Anne Fernald, historian/bibliographer, International Virginia Woolf Society

Skip ahead to:
- special issues or volumes
- other items of special note
- books & pamphlets
- multimedia
- translations
- journal articles, chapters, notes
- dissertations and theses
- reviews
- new texts by Woolf!

Special issues or volumes

Other items of special note

13th Annual Conference on Virginia Woolf will be held June 5-8, 2003 at Smith College in Northampton, Massachusetts. The conference will focus on “the real world” aspects of Woolf’s life, work and legacy.

Books and pamphlets

Multimedia

Translations

Journal articles, book chapters, and notes

David Bradshaw. "'Vanished, Like Leaves': The Military, Elegy and Italy in Mrs Dalloway." Woolf Studies Annual, 8 (2002)

Christie, Stuart. "Willing Epigone: Virginia Woolf’s Between the Acts as Nietzschean Historiography." c

Hussey, Mark. "Note From the Editor." Woolf Studies Annual, 8 (2002)

Stec, Loretta. “State University Students and Resistance to Three Guineas as ‘A Conversation Between Woolf and her Friends.’” Virginia Woolf Miscellany. 60 (Spring 2002) 3-4.

Todd, Richard. “Realism Disavowed? Discourses of Memory and High Incarnations in Jackson’s Dilemma.” Modern Fiction Studies. 3 (Fall 2002) 672-691.

Dissertations and theses

Reviews

Pawlowski, Merry. Rev. of British Women Writers of World War II: Battlegrounds of Their Own by Phyllis Lassner. Woolf Studies Annual, 8 (2002)

New publications of texts by Virginia Woolf