11. Croatian physicians from the National and Regional Institutes of Public Health. Following this successful summer school, CHP provided consultation in different phases of projects.

2. Centre for Health Promotion and Centre for Addiction and Mental Health were Co-Chairs of the Coordinating Committee.

3. Suzanne Jackson, CHP, and Andrea Stevens-Lavigne (Centre for Addiction and Mental Health) developed and taught a five-day course on mental health promotion to Chilean health professionals as part of the Public Health Promotion Forum in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.

4. In July 2002, a two-week health promotion summer school was held at the Centre for Health Promotion for a group of 11 Croatian physicians from the National and Regional Institutes of Public Health. Following this successful summer school, CHP provided consultation in different phases of projects.

5. Fran Perkins, International Health Promotion Unit Coordinator, Suzanne Jackson, Lauren Cordwell and Erika Khandor represented Canada on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee set up by PAHO to plan the Health Promotion Forum in the Americas in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.

6. Suzanne Jackson at the Congreso de Promoción de la Salud en Santiago, Chile in October 2002. She sat on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee set up by PAHO to plan the Health Promotion Forum in the Americas in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.

7. Youth and Health Project in Serbia and Bosnia-Herzegovina, 2006-2009. This Canadian Society for International Health (CSIH) project developed youth friendly primary health services for vulnerable youth in both countries with CIDA funding.

8. Youth and Health Project in Ukraine that received six years of CIDA funding from 1995-2005. The Centre for Health Promotion provided consultation in different phases of the project.

9. High school youth presenting a show they developed about health issues at the wrap-up conference of a Canadian Society for International Health (CSIH) project developed youth friendly primary health services for vulnerable youth in both countries with CIDA funding.

10. Suzanne Jackson at the Congreso de Promoción de la Salud en Santiago, Chile in October 2002. She sat on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee set up by PAHO to plan the Health Promotion Forum in the Americas in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.

11. Suzanne Jackson, Lauren Cordwell and Erika Khandor represented Canada on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee set up by PAHO to plan the Health Promotion Forum in the Americas in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.

12. Suzanne Jackson at the Congreso de Promoción de la Salud en Santiago, Chile in October 2002. She sat on the Scientific and Technical Advisory Committee set up by PAHO to plan the Health Promotion Forum in the Americas in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.

15. Suzanne Jackson, CHP, and Andrea Stevens-Lavigne (Centre for Addiction and Mental Health) developed and taught a five-day course on mental health promotion to Chilean health professionals as part of the Public Health Promotion Forum in Santiago, Chile, October 20-24, 2002. This meeting was a follow-up to the WHO's International Health Promotion Conference in Mexico in 2000.