Advanced Rescue Scuba Diver course

DATES: SEPTEMBER 12-13, 19-20

Learn how to manage risks and effectively handle in-water problems and diving emergencies, how to assist and transport divers, and how to perform surface rescues and rescues from depth involving both boat and shore based skin and scuba divers. The course runs over two weekends, full days, and includes one full day of first-aid and CPR training and live accident management scenarios.

Rescue Scuba Diver course

DATES: SEPTEMBER 12-13

For those who are already first-aid certified, the Rescue Scuba Diver course runs over one full weekend and covers academic and practical skills required to appropriately respond to and avoid various diving incidents and accidents. The Rescue Scuba Diver course cannot be taken with the NAUI first Aid course; interested individuals must enroll in the Advanced Rescue Scuba Diver course.

NAUI First Aid course

DATES: SEPTEMBER 19

As part of the Advanced Rescue Scuba Diver course, HHUC will offer first aid training for scuba diving. This training includes: basic first aid, CPR (adult, one- and two-rescuer), AED, and oxygen administration. This one-day course addresses the requirements of the NAUI First Aid certification, and is available to divers and non-divers alike. As a stand-alone course, it is appropriate for divers who have participated in the Rescue Scuba Diver course.
