Office Hours: By Appointment

Course Scope and Mission

This course examines the role of the management consultant and how the consulting industry serves to enhance the effectiveness of the organizations it serves. From an internal perspective, the course examines what it means to act as an external advisor, what skills are necessary to develop a successful consulting business model, and how to professionally engage clients to assist them in successfully reaching their goals through design and implementation of novel approaches and techniques that generate competitive advantage.

Emulating the skills necessary to be a successful consultant, this course will aid in development of problem-identification and solving abilities, communication and influencing skills, and introduce a project-based management mindset. These components lead to success in the consulting marketplace by balancing formal processes, methodologies, and models with the spontaneous creativity of a high-performance team, which manifest in the form of true innovation for clients and firm alike.

By following the consulting lifecycle, course participants will learn the nuances of the consulting business from uncovering issues, to framing problems, analyzing issues, presenting recommendations, and planning for the ever-important "Phase 2". Students will see the industry from both perspectives, both as future consultants on a career-path to partner and as future industry managers looking to get the most from their use of external resources. The course's 50:50 mix of lecture and in-depth case analysis will put to practice traditional strategic, process, and functional analyses together with taking on the role of "futurist" for each case organization to address business issues, to implement solutions, and to be at the forefront of knowledge development.

Required Readings

Text: Advice Business, The: Essential Tools and Models for Management Consulting, Prentice Hall, 2004, ISBN: 9780130303738

Case Package: A complementary package of eleven cases is needed for the case analysis portion of the course and cases can be obtained on-line. Cases must be ordered directly from the two primary suppliers of business cases, Ivey Business School and Harvard Business School. Ordering instructions for each institution are found in the appendix to this course outline. The course package will also include the optional case for the group assignment: Yum! China (511040-PDF-ENG). Make reference to the case list in the Weekly Schedule below to identify the publisher of individual cases. Ivey cases should be order directly from Ivey to receive the best price. All other cases (HBS, HEC) should be ordered through Harvard.

Other Materials

Each week, a PowerPoint presentation will be delivered to students covering the material required and testable on the quizzes and non-case portion of the final exam. Case learning points will be summarized weekly, as key “take-aways” from the class discussion. Other materials the instructor wishes to hand-out will be distributed on an as-needed basis.

Students will receive an information package from the Canadian Association of Management Consultants during the first class. A student membership, including receipt of the Association’s Methodologies text and 2011 Industry Study, is entirely optional for students who choose to join the Association and the choice to join or not will in no way impact a student’s course grade.

Evaluation and Grades

Grades are a measure of the performance of a student in individual courses. Each student shall be judged on the basis of how well he or she has command of the course materials.

Work		Due Date
Class Participation/Attendance	15%	Ongoing
Case Assignment Write-Up (x2)	20%	Any case; one due by Feb. 28/one by Apr 4
Interview Guide	10%	Select any case; guide due that day
Group Project Deliverable & Presentation	35%	Apr 3 rd
Final Exam (Case-Based + Short Answer)	20%	During Final Examination period

Participation: To maximize your participation grades – and overall learning – students should attend all classes to maximize opportunities to speak to their colleagues and concentrate on providing class comments which:

- Move the analysis along and/or take it to a “higher” level
- Provide insight that others may not have seen
- Are relevant to the class discussion
- Leverage prior learnings and other references, of your choice, in the context of the case
- Add clarity to course PowerPoint slides (required reading) in the context of the case
- Challenge colleagues in a professional and logical manner
- Draw similarities to previous learnings
- Demonstrates their relation to the current case scenario being discussed

Grade review: The instructor does not discuss grades without a substantive reason. Substantive reasons include errors made during grading. If you would like me to re-evaluate your grade in any component of the course, you should follow this procedure:

- (a) Write a memo explaining why you need me to re-evaluate your grade. The memo should contain substantive arguments only, and not humanitarian (e.g., “I really need an A,” “I worked so hard”), or social justice (e.g. “he got an A for saying the same thing”) appeals. If you do feel that a social justice appeal is justified, you should get the cooperation of the person who you are comparing with, and have them also submit their paper. You may submit this memo to the commerce office.
- (b) You will normally get a response from me within a week.
- (c) The entire exam or paper will be re evaluated, and you should be aware that any grade changes are possible (i.e. decrease, increase or none). The only exception to the “entire paper gets re evaluated” policy is a case where there is a mathematical error in determining a grade.

The instructor is responsible for your grade in RSM495 but not responsible for any administrative decisions that may make use of your grade in RSM495. If you believe that your grade requires review, please follow the procedure above.

Final Examination

The final exam will consist of 7-10 short answer/multiple choice-type questions and one case, which will test your knowledge of the material that is discussed in class sessions and found in the PowerPoints, readings, and case learnings. The final exam date will not be known until the final exam schedule is released by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Do not book any travel before May 1, 2014.

Requirements and Criteria

Performance in the course will be evaluated using a variety of methods that support the objectives identified above. A combination of exams, individual participation, group presentation, and case summary assignments will be used to evaluate participants on a number of different levels.

The criteria for success, in no particular order, are:

- Comprehension of the material
- Demonstration of an ability to think cross-functionally
- A willingness to participate for the benefit of oneself and fellow participants
- Strong work ethic to “pull your weight” in group assignments

These criteria will be applied to written and verbal work throughout the term.

Participants will be evaluated on the following activities, as listed in the table below:

Activity	Percent age of Grade	Description
Final Exam	20%	This exam will be 3-hours in length and contain two parts, as shown below. Aides allowed: Calculator, one, double-sided 8 ½" x 11" paper <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. A closed-book (subject to allowed aides above), medium-length comprehensive case testing all course material and application of summary lessons captured at the end of each session (worth 70%) 2. Seven to Ten (7-10) short answer / multiple choice and/or True-False questions testing material from the text readings (worth 30%)
Participation	15%	Preparation for class case discussion, as demonstrated by; <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • willingness to lead and actively participate class discussions in a professional manner • providing valuable insights and analysis • responding to "cold-calls" • Using blackboard / PowerPoint / Excel spreadsheets to present analyses and findings
Case Analysis Write-Up	20% (2 x 10% each)	Prepare any two (2) of the cases on the schedule. Your assignment is simple: Prepare the Case. Use whatever tools and methodologies you deem appropriate. Hand the case in on the day we do it in class. You may choose to do additional research on the company(ies) in the case, at your discretion, but this is not necessary.
Interview Guide	10%	OPTION A: Individually prepared interview guide prepared based on reading of a single case, which will be selected by students during the first class (on a first-come, first-served basis). The interview Guide will be handed-in at the beginning of class. The write-up should be no more than eight pages (double-spaced, 12-point Arial font) in length, with a maximum of three exhibits. The student should write the interview guide from the perspective of a consultant engaged externally (or internally) by the organization facing the challenge whose business issue requires a solution. The Interview Guide should address the 5 W's related to this information gathering technique for the case in question OPTION B: Prepare the interview guide, as above for Option A, except do so for the client or case company being analyzed for your Group Project.

Group Case Proposal & Assignment (either Option is worth the same marks)

40%

OPTION A (by way of application to Professor):

Taking on the role of external consultants, a limited number of groups of 4-6 students (estimated to be 6-7 real-life projects available) will propose, project manage, and execute a “real-life”, pro-bono (non-paid) consulting project with a company of their choosing or who has expressed interest in utilizing the skills of students. Students will be responsible for understanding the need, engaging the client representative, scoping the requirements, conducting analyses, providing client status updates, preparing their recommendations and developing an implementation plan. Several hand-ins are required, signed by the client sponsor, as identified below in addition to a group listing and research approach;

- (1) A Client Proposal
- (2) An Interviewee Listing and Approach
- (3) A Project Plan
- (4) An example of a Weekly Status Report
- (5) A Deliverable Listing
- (6) A complete Client Deliverable in hard-copy format, complemented with a ten (10) minute group presentation of key findings.

Groups will apply to Professor (resume & cover letter, plus other relevant materials) then self-select their members from those selected to do the real-life project and will work together on their own time, allocating the work effort evenly to each of the team members. By taking on this Real-Life Consulting Assignment, all team members are giving their express implicit agreement to contribute effectively and evenly in the best interest of the client, and to respect each other, the client, and the reputation of the University of Toronto, Rotman, your Instructor, and the broader consulting profession. The assignment details are as follows:

Objective: To provide the client organization with the most beneficial analyses, recommendations and modes of operationalization, based on the agreed client-organization requirements (could be strategy, operations, IT, etc.)

Tools: Groups should utilize learnings from the text, related PowerPoint slides, and any additional books on consulting, project management and/or strategy to structure the written assignment parts and presentation. Students should be prepared to apply a variety of models learned both in this and other classes.

Components of Assignment: Each group will be responsible for submitting several components of the overall assignment as follows (due dates are prescribed in the schedule at the end of this course outline):

- Proposal (guideline: 10 pages), worth 7.5%
- Project Plan, worth 5%
- Weekly Status Report example (1 page), worth 2.5%
- Deliverable Listing (1 page), worth 5%
- Project Deliverable Write-Up (guideline: 25 pages), worth 15%
- Presentation (guideline: 10 slides, 10 minutes), worth 5%

OPTION B (selected by students or those not unsuccessful in applying for Option A):

Taking on the role of external consultant to Sam Su, the groups of 4-6 students will propose and prepare their recommendations and implementation plan pertaining to a broad scope of consulting work to address the business issue(s) in the Yum! China case. Five hand-ins are required, as identified above; (1) A Client Proposal; (2) Project Plan; (3) Weekly Status Report example; (4) Deliverable Listing, and; (5) A complete Client Deliverable in hard-copy format, complemented with a ten (10) minute group presentation of key findings.

Groups will self-select their members and will work together on their own time, allocating the work effort evenly to each of the team members. The assignment details are as follows:

Objective: To provide the client organization in the case with the most complete & beneficial recommendations and modes of operationalization

Tools: Groups should utilize learnings from the text, related PowerPoint slides, and any additional books on consulting, project management and/or strategy to structure the written assignment parts and presentation. Students should be prepared to apply a variety of models learned both in this and other classes.

Components of Assignment: Each group will be responsible for submitting several components of the overall assignment as follows (due dates are same as for real-life group project):

- Proposal (guideline: 10 pages), worth 7.5%
- Project Plan, worth 5%
- Weekly Status Report example (1 page), worth 2.5%
- Deliverable Listing (1 page), worth 5%
- Project Deliverable Write-Up (guideline: 25 pages), worth 15%
- Presentation (guideline: 10 slides, 10 minutes), worth 5%

COURSE FORMAT AND EXPECTATIONS

Course Objectives

This is a 50:50, lecture:case-based course that will draw upon real-world applied learnings highlighted in the text and PowerPoint slides each week, shared insights from students, instructor-led facilitation, and active individual/group participation each week to achieve the following measurable learning objectives:

1. Demonstrate understanding of management consulting concepts, as articulated in the weekly slides, text, through a final exam, two quizzes, and group & individual assignments that mimic those activities performed daily by real-world professionals
2. Provide valuable insights to business case discussions in class, on a regular basis, through active class participation and attendance at each class session
3. Exhibit an ability to plan and execute a long-term, group assignment, including development of a proposal, analyses, spreadsheet modeling, report, and group presentation
4. Highlight personal analytical, deduction, presentation and writing skills through a single, individual case interview guide assignment selected by the student from among those in the course timetable below

Grades will be a function of student's success on the activities noted above (and described below in more detail) to ensure a fair and objective assessment of performance.

It is expected that successful participants will have also achieved the following learning milestones by completion of this course:

- Applied cross-functional skills to make real-world-type decisions as they set and plan for the execution of engagements for several well-known organizations highlighted in the cases
- Learned a number of new analytical techniques utilized by professionals in the practice of strategy consulting and business advisory services
- Analyzed and evaluated various aspects of several case organizations, their competition, their business issues, their context, and related tactical options
- Developed client issue responses, decide among alternatives, and created implementation plans to ensure project success, client satisfaction, and firm profitability
- Created innovative "visions for the future" of each industry space in which case organizations play, including how the marketplace might evolve, what products/services will be like, what the consultant can do to assist to prepare for that future, and what can they do to "shape their destiny", drive thoughtware development, and gain market eminence
- Presented the results of their analyses and decision-making to their peers in a executive-style client summary
- Understand the use of these techniques in real-life settings, as demonstrated by consulting guest speaker(s)
- Enhanced communication skills by clearly and concisely sharing of complex information with their peers

Achieving the additional learning milestones will be evaluated as part of the participation grade and the overall quality of case analyses and recommendations made during class cases, quizzes, final exam, and the assignments.

To Use Turnitin.com:

Normally students will be required to submit their course essays to Turnitin.com for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the university's use of the Turnitin.com service are described on the Turnitin.com website.

For Written Assignments:

Please note that spelling and grammar will be considered in the evaluation of all assignments. That is, you may lose points for spelling mistakes and grammatical errors. Students who require additional support and/or tutoring with respect to their writing skills are encouraged to visit the Academic Success Centre (www.asc.utoronto.ca) or one of the College Writing Centres (www.writing.utoronto.ca/writing-centres). These centres are teaching facilities – not editing services, where trained staff can assist students in developing their academic writing skills. There is no charge for the instruction and support.

For Group Work:

Learning to work together in teams is an important aspect of your education and preparation for your future careers. That said, project-based teamwork is often new to students and you are therefore reminded of the following expectations with respect to behaviour and contributions to your team project.

1. Read the document entitled, “Working in Teams: Guidelines for Rotman Commerce Students” which is available on the RC portal under the Academic Services tab.

2. When working in a team, Rotman Commerce students are expected to:

- Treat other members with courtesy and respect;
- Honour the ground rules established by the team;
- Contribute substantially and proportionally to the final project;
- Ensure enough familiarity with the entire contents of the group project/assignment so as to be able to sign off on it as original work;
- Meet the project timeline as established by the team.

3. Resolving differences:

Conflicts can – and do – occur. Conflicts are part of the team’s process of learning how to work together effectively and can actually generate exciting debate and creative solutions – if managed appropriately.

Student teams are collectively expected to resolve disputes or misunderstandings as soon as they arise (and prior to submission of the final project). In cases where teams are unable to reach a mutually agreeable solution, the entire team must meet with the Rotman Commerce Team Coach as soon as possible. The Coach will listen to the team and help develop options for improving the team process. All members of the project team must commit to, and, utilize their action plans.

 The Rotman Commerce Team Coach, Nikoleta Vlamis, may be reached at nikoleta@nikoletaandassociates.com for an appointment. Nikoleta is an expert in team dynamics and facilitation. Note that Nikoleta’s role is to provide guidance, support and advice on team matters – not to formally evaluate or assess teamwork for academic purposes.

Final Exam	TBA		Final Exam will contain 7-10 short-answer and/or MC questions in "quiz" format plus one case.

POLICY AND PROCEDURE

Missed Assignments/Quizzes

Students who miss a quiz or assignment for reasons entirely beyond their control (e.g. illness) may submit a request for special consideration. Provided that notification and documentation are provided in a timely manner, and that the request is subsequently approved, no academic penalty will be applied. Students should be aware that the mark-value of a missed quiz will be added to the mark-value of their final exam for purposes of determining the final course grade..

In such cases, students must notify Rotman Commerce on the date of the missed test (or due date in the case of course work) and submit supporting documentation (e.g. Verification of Student Illness or Injury form) to the Rotman Commerce Program Office within 48 hours of the originally scheduled test or due date. Students who do not provide Rotman Commerce or the instructor with appropriate or sufficient supporting documentation will be given a grade of 0 (zero).

Note that the physician's report must establish that the patient was examined and diagnosed at the time of illness, not after the fact. Rotman Commerce will not accept a statement that merely confirms a report of illness made by the student and documented by the physician.

If a student is excusably absent from the final exam, a make-up test will be completed at a date and time set by the Faculty of Arts and Sciences.

Course Work & Academic Honesty

Attendance in Class – Physical presence in class and active engagement in daily discussions is expected of all students. Material presented in class may be testable as part of the evaluations noted above.

Each class will follow a three-part agenda focused on increasing understanding of course material, applying course material and analytical tools to the case, and summarizing our key lessons learned, in a list, for later use (on exams, assignments, etc.). The three areas will be addressed according to the following timeline:

- Topical Discussion on the PowerPoint slides (required readings), led by Lecturer with class participation
- 5-10 minute break and time to write on-going formal feedback about the class
- Commence Case Discussion & Summary Learning Point List Creation
- Class Ends and Office Hours Commence for 1 hour

A variety of techniques will be used to encourage participation, including “cold-calls”, assigning specific sections of the case analyses at the start of class, and “numbering-off” of all participants to request answers.

NOTE: The consistency of your participation comments, knowledge of the previously-delivered material, and quiz/assignment results will be addressed holistically. Students should prepare all weekly cases and assignments individually to maximize their learning and demonstrate the required level of understanding of the material.

Students and lecturer at the end of the class will list summary learning points. These points will be important study notes for future

Respect for fellow students is expected and mandatory (see Standard of Conduct section below) and required to encourage participation by all. Respect will further ensure that all relevant case concepts are raised, therefore increasing the depth of the analysis and discussion. Respect encompasses the following concepts:

- Attend all classes and arrive on time
- Allow and encourage others to participate
- Refrain from “cat-calls” or derogatory comments – if students disagree with an analysis or comment, it is fully expected that counter arguments will be presented in a clear, concise, and professional manner
- Coming to class prepared, including having read the case in detail and having prepared any relevant analysis yourself

Group Involvement: For the group assignment, groups should allocate the work evenly among each team member. All team members should be familiar with all aspects of the materials developed and presented. A single mark will be awarded to each member of a group. Groups should meet after hours to complete their group assignment, discuss findings, determine applicable textbook and resource guide approaches to use, analyze results, develop the written report and appendices, and rehearse their final group presentation. Groups can determine if each member will speak during the final presentation or if a single spokesperson will present or some derivation thereof.

Feedback to Instructor: Please send any written or oral feedback to the instructor whenever you feel it is necessary. After session #2, I will ask for your written feedback (just use a blank piece of paper) on any issues you have or things you want to see addressed in the class. This feedback should be confidential, so there is no need to provide your name unless you feel you would like to do so. This type of feedback will then be welcomed at any point during the term. The feedback will be addressed and used to improve the course and your learning experience. During the mid-point of term, a formal feedback survey will be conducted on Zoomerang seeking your feedback on the course to-date with a view to implementing suggestions for improvement for the second part of term.

Submission of Assignments - Late submissions of any assignment may be considered; however, a resolution may be determined at the instructor’s discretion and may include an academic penalty.

Standard of Conduct in this Course

Since this course is part of a degree designed to give you a broad understanding of the world of business, we aim to run the course in a way which will be consistent with the world of business - where many of you will spend your working lives. We strive to provide accurate information, quality materials and good service, consistent with our obligations to maintain the high academic standards of the Rotman School of Management.

In return we expect that you will conduct yourself in a way that prepares you for the world of work.

- 1 We start on time, so please do not arrive late and disrupt others.
- 2 Leaving class early is also disruptive to your colleagues and will not be permitted unless you have made prior arrangements with the instructor.
- 3 Turn off your cell phone, pager, and watch alarm.
- 4 Keep up to date. Make sure that you know the class schedule. Check on the course web page for updates and posted materials.
- 5 During the class, respect the learning opportunities of others. Don't distract others by chatting to your neighbour. Our expectation is that you will not only contribute in class to your own learning, but also to that of others.

Given that there are multiple sections, please understand that with limited seats in the assigned classroom, those students registered in the section always maintain first right to a seat and priority in classroom space. You are allowed to move between sections provided that you are not taking a seat of a peer already registered in the section. Also, slight variations may be expected between the lecture and/or case discussions, depending on the nature of participation, class discussion, and/or lecturer choice.

Accessibility Needs

The University of Toronto is committed to accessibility. If you require accommodations for a disability, or have any accessibility concerns about the course, the classroom or course materials, please contact Accessibility Services as soon as possible:

disability.services@utoronto.ca or <http://www.accessibility.utoronto.ca/>.

Academic Integrity

Academic Integrity is a fundamental value essential to the pursuit of learning and scholarships at the University of Toronto. Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in this academic community ensures that the UofT degree that you earn will continue to be valued and respected as a true signifier of a student's individual work and academic achievement. As a result, the University treats cases of academic misconduct very seriously.

The University of Toronto's Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters

<http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies/behaveac.htm> outlines the behaviours that constitute academic misconduct, the process for addressing academic offences, and the penalties that may be imposed. You are expected to be familiar with the contents of this document. Potential offences include, but are not limited to:

In papers and assignments:

- Using someone else's ideas or words without appropriate acknowledgement.
- Submitting your own work in more than one course without the permission of the instructor.

- Making up sources or facts.
- Obtaining or providing unauthorized assistance on any assignment (this includes collaborating with others on assignments that are supposed to be completed individually).

On test and exams:

- Using or possessing any unauthorized aid, including a cell phone.
- Looking at someone else's answers
- Misrepresenting your identity.
- Submitting an altered test for re-grading.

Misrepresentation:

- Falsifying institutional documents or grades.
- Falsifying or altering any documentation required by the University, including (but not limited to), medical notes.

All suspected cases of academic dishonesty will be investigated by the following procedures outlined in the Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters. If you have any question about what is or not is permitted in the course, please do not hesitate to contact the course instructor. If you have any questions about appropriate research and citation methods, you are expected to seek out additional information from the instructor or other UofT resources such as College Writing Centres or the Academic Success Centre.

Email

At times, the course instructor may decide to communicate important course information by email. As such, all UofT students are required to have a valid UTmail+ email address. You are responsible for ensuring that your UTmail+ email address is set up AND properly entered on the ROSI system. For more information please visit <http://help.ic.utoronto.ca/category/3/utmail.html>

Forwarding your utoronto.ca email to a Hotmail, Gmail, Yahoo or other type of email account is not advisable. In some cases, messages from utoronto.ca addresses sent to Hotmail, Gmail or Yahoo accounts are filtered as junk mail, which means that important messages from your course instructor may end up in your spam or junk mail folder.

Blackboard and the Course Page

The online course page for this course is accessed through Blackboard. To access the course page, go to the UofT Portal login at <https://portal.utoronto.ca/> and log in using your UTORid and password. Once you have logged in, look for the My Courses module where you'll find the link to all your course websites. If you don't see the course listed here but you are properly registered for the course in ROSI, wait 48 hours. If the course does not appear, go to the Information Commons Help Desk in Robarts Library, 1st floor, for help, or explore the Portal Information and Help at www.portalinfo.utoronto.ca/students and review the Frequently Asked Questions.

Recording Lectures

Lectures and course materials prepared by the instructor are considered by the University to be an instructor's intellectual property covered by the Canadian Copyright Act. Students wishing to record a lecture or other course material in any way are required to ask the instructor's explicit permission, and may not do so unless permission is granted (note: students who have been previously granted permission to record lectures as an accommodation for a disability are, of course, excepted). This includes tape recording, filming, photographing PowerPoint slides, Blackboard materials, etc.

If permission is granted by the instructor (or via Accessibility Services), it is intended for the individual student's own study purposes and does not include permission to "publish" them in anyway. It is absolutely forbidden for a student to publish an instructor's notes to a website or sell them in any other form without formal permission.

Your Lecturer

Jan Klakurka is a full-time Professor at Huron University College, Western University, Consultant to SME's, and Sessional Lecturer in Strategy at the Rotman School of Management, University of Toronto. He is former Director, Corporate Planning and Business Development of the Wasteco Group of Companies, specializing in waste management and recycling services, based in Toronto. At Wasteco, he led strategy, long-term and operational planning, change management, and development activities reporting to the founder-owner-President. Prior to Wasteco, Jan was Corporate Controller and Director, Process Improvement for U.K.-based infrastructure and construction services company, Carillion with responsibility for Corporate taxation, and was a senior project manager with the strategy consulting practice of Deloitte & Touche LLP, leading transformation engagements with Fortune 500 companies globally for over five years. Jan's professional experience also includes working for both General Motors of Canada and McCarney Greenwood, an entrepreneur-focused CA firm.

Jan taught Strategic Management at UTM between 2005-2009 and Rotman (2012 & 2013 Summers), Management Control at UTSC in Winter 2011, and most recently International Business (2012, 2013 Summer) and Management Consulting at Rotman Commerce (2011-2013) He also regularly teaches Introduction to Management at Rotman Commerce (half in summer 2011 and the full course in 2012 and 2013). He has also taught the general management Ivey LEADER (Leading Education in Emerging Regions) program in Dnepropetrovsk, Ukraine and Minsk, Belarus, has spoken on leadership, consulting, and finance at Brock University and the Ivey Business School, taught on the topic of wines at the Independent Wine Education Guild, and has developed and delivered training programs to Deloitte consulting staff on a range of topics.

A graduate of UTM's Commerce program, Jan went on to complete his CA and CMC designations, and obtained his MBA from the Richard Ivey School of Business. His favourite business book is Competing for the Future, by Hamel and Prahalad, he enjoys skiing, white-water kayaking, golf, and strategic investments. His greatest project is having fun with his two daughters who are seven and five years-old. In 2006, he was awarded the AIWS designation, joining 2,500 others worldwide that have completed the Diploma in Wines & Spirits from the Wine & Spirit Education Trust based in London and in 2009 began the long road in pursuit of the Master of Wine designation. Jan has completed four of five modules, and is endeavouring to complete the remaining module in December, in pursuit of the Chartered Director's designation offered at the Director's College, Degroote School of Business, McMaster University.
