Director, University of Toronto Centre for the Study of Pain
Application Deadline: September 15, 2019

Applications are invited for the position of Director of the University of Toronto Centre for the Study of Pain (UTCSP). The UTCSP is an EDU-C – a multidisciplinary, multi-departmental, research and educational unit designed to foster research and scholarly interest in the area of pain. It is a collaborative initiative of the Faculty of Dentistry, Faculty of Medicine, Lawrence S. Bloomberg Faculty of Nursing, and the Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy. Over its 20-year history, it has become an internationally recognized multidisciplinary centre of excellence in pain research and education at the University of Toronto.

The Director will work with the UTCSP Executive Committee, and will oversee the activities of the Education, Research, and Knowledge Translation subcommittees. This person will also work collaboratively with the Director, Centre for Interprofessional Education, who has governance and oversight responsibilities for the Interfaculty Pain Curriculum. The Director will report to the Deans of the four Faculties involved.

The successful candidate must have the ability to provide strong leadership for the educational, research and knowledge translation programs of the Centre. This person will possess the skills to promote novel and innovative program development, and maintain existing partnerships while seeking new partnerships and external sources of funding.

Applicants should be an internationally recognized pain scientist and/or clinician whose research will lead by example. Applicants must be an appointed faculty member at the University of Toronto. This position begins January 1, 2020 and the successful applicant will be appointed for a 5-year term, with the possibility of one renewal following a favourable review.

Applicants should forward a letter of interest plus curriculum vitae via e-mail to dean@dentistry.utoronto.ca. Submissions must be received by September 15, 2019.