

Authors

Roman Abisogomjan, graduate of Tartu University, PhD candidate at Tallinn University. Research interests: Russian emigration, Russian military men in Estonian Republic (1919–1940). He is an author of the publication Rol' russkikh voennykh dejatelej v obschestvennoj i kul'turnoj zhizni Estonskoj Respubliki 1920–1930-h gg. i ikh literaturnoe nasledie. Biograficheskij spravochnik (Tartu, 2007) and more than 15 scholarly articles.

Irina Belobrovtsseva, PhD is a Professor of Russian Literature of the Institute of Russian and Slavic Languages and Literatures of Tallinn University. She is author of more than a hundred scholarly publications, including Roman M. A. Bulgakova „Master i Margarita: konstruktivnye printsipy organizatsii teksta“ (Tartu, 1997); a collection of articles on contemporary Russian and Estonian literature; a concise commentary to the novel Master i Margarita (co-authored with S. K. Kul'ius) (Tallinn, 2001). She is editor and co-editor of the series Baltiiskii arkhiv (Materialy po istorii russkoi kul'tury v Pribaltike (vols. 1–3)), of the two-volume memoirs of N. E. Andreev, To, chto vspominaetsia (Tallinn, 1996), three issues of the Samoilovskie chteniia (Tallinn, 2001, 2006, 2009).

Nikolai Bogomolov graduated from the Department of Philology of Moscow University in 1973 and earned his PhD at the Department of Soviet Literature in 1979. Has been teaching in the Faculty of Journalism at Moscow University since 1978. Now professor and Head of the department of Literary and Artistic Criticism. Author of over 500 scholarly works, including Mikhail Kuzmin: articles and materials (Moscow 1995), Poetic Speech (Moscow, 1995), Mikhail Kuzmin: A Life in Art (co-author J. E. Malmstad) (Moscow 1996, Sankt-Petersburg, 2007, English version – Harvard University Press, 1999), Early Twentieth Century Russian Literature and Occultism (Moscow, 1999), Russian Literature of the First Third of the Twentieth Century: Portraits, Issues, Investigations (Tomsk, 1999), From Pushkin to Kibirov (Moscow, 2004), Viacheslav Ivanov in 1903–1907: Documentary Chronicles (Moscow, 2009), About „The Silver Age“ (Moscow, 2010). Publisher of the books of I. Annenskii, Andrei Belyi, K. Bol'shakov, V. Bryusov, Z. Gippius, N. Gumilev, G. Ivanov, M. Kuzmin, V. Khodasvich A. Tinyakov.

Aleksandr Danilevsky, PhD, is a Senior Researcher of the Institute of Russian and Slavic Languages and Literatures of Tallinn University. His area of specialization is twentieth-century Russian literature, including the Silver Age, Russian émigré literature, the prose of the 1920s and 30s, Rozanov, Remizov, Temiriazev (Iu. Annenkov). He edited and co-edited issues Kultura russkoi diaspori: samorefleksii i samoidentifikatsiia (Tartu, 1997); Mezhdru Vos-tokom i Zapadom: Jevrei v russkoi i jevropeiskoi kulture, (Tallinn, 2000); Memuary v kulture russkogo zarubezhia (Moscow, 2010) etc.

Sergei Dotsenko completed his PhD at the University of Tallinn, Estonia. Associate Professor of the Institute of Slavic Languages and Literatures at the University of Tallinn. Research interests: researcher of the Silver Age literature. Author of monography Problems of Remizov's Poetics (2000) and articles on the history and poetics of 20th century Russian literature (A. Remizov, V. Ivanov, M. Bulgakov, B. Pasternak, M. Cvetaeva, A. Blok, V. Brusov, A. N. Tolstoi etc). He edited and co-edited issues: Vtoraia proza: Sbornik statei (Tallinn, 2004); Russkaia emigratsiia: Literatura. Istoriia. Kinoletopis (Ierusalim-Moskva-Tallinn, 2004); Baltiiskij arhiv: Russkaja kultura v Pribaltike. XI. „Tallinskij tekst“ v russkoi kulture (Tallinn, 2006); Kultura russkoi diaspori: Emigratsiia i memuary (Tallinn, 2009) etc.

Fyodor Fyodorov, PhD is a Professor at Daugavpils University and Director of the Institute of Comparative Studies; he is a Corresponding Member of the Latvian Academy of Sciences. His books include Faust Gete (Riga, 1976), Chelovek v romanticheskoi literature (Riga, 1987), Romanticheskii khudozhestvennyi mir: prostranstvo i vremia (Riga, 1988), and Khudozhestvennyi mir nemetskogo romantizma: struktura i semantika (Moscow, 2005).

Sergei Garkavi is completing archival research in Moscow and St. Petersburg for a series of articles for the dictionary Русские писатели. 1800–1917. He is co-author (with E. Kuranda) of a number of articles introducing readers and scholars to unknown or inaccessible texts by Igor Severyanin. His primary scholarly interest is archival and textological research on Russian literature of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

Anastasia Gorobets, M. A., is a Slavic and German philologist and graduate of the Faculty of Foreign Literature of St. Petersburg State University, the Faculties of Russian Literature of the Slavic Institute and of Modern German Literature of the Institute of German Studies of Vienna University. She is also a Research Fellow at the Institute of Russian Literature (Pushkin House) and holds a grant from the Austrian Scientific Society. She is writing a dissertation on the works of the „young“ poet of the first wave of Russian emigration, Antonina Ladinsky.

Alla Gracheva is a Doktor filologicheskikh nauk (1998) and Senior Associate in the Institute of Russian Literature (Pushkin House) of the Russian Academy of Sciences. She has published many articles on the history of Russian literature in the early twentieth century (Remizov, Artsybashev, Andreev, Zamyatin and others). She is author of the monographs Алексей Ремизов и древнерусская культура. СПб., 2002, and Жанр романа и творчества Алексея Ремизова (1910–1950-е годы), СПб., 2010 and editor-in-chief of Ремизов А. М. Собрание сочинений. М.: Русская книга, 2000–2003, 10 vols. She has also edited Алексей Ремизов: Исследования и материалы, СПб., 1994 and Aleksej Remizov: Studi e materiali inediti. Salerno; SPb, 2003.

Rutt Hinrikus is an associate in the Estonian Museum of Literature. Research interests: the history of Estonian literature and culture and biography. She is chair of the association Эстонские биографии and has compiled three volumes of Биографии эстонского народа / Eesti rahva elulood (2001–2005) as well as an edition of К. Ристикуви, Литературный дневник / Kirjanduslik päevik (2000) etc. She also participates in the projects Публикации литературных и историко-культурных источников из собраний Эстонского архива истории культуры, Источники истории культуры и контекстуальность литературы and others.

Anneli Kõvamees, PhD, is a lector of the Institute of Estonian Literature and Culture of Tallinn University and a researcher of the Institute of Russian and Slavic Languages and Literatures of Tallinn University. Areas of research include Estonian literature (e. g. Estonian travelogues, Russian theme in Estonian prose and travelogues), travel literature and imagological viewpoint to literature. She has published in peer-reviewed magazines (e.g. Keel ja Kirjandus [Language and Literature]) and in international compilations, e. g. Back to Baltic Memory: Lost and Found in Literature 1940–1968 (2008).

Gottfried Kratz, PhD, is doing research in the publishing history field, primarily on Russian language books published in Germany and German language books, published in Russia. His works have appeared in German and Russian periodicals, most recently in Archiv für Geschichte des Buchwesens, Kniga. Issledovaniia i materialy and Bibliografiya. He is an acting member of the Bureau of the Book Section at the Moscow based Central House of Scientists of the Russian Academy of Sciences and member of the editorial staff of the Russian Book Chamber journal Bibliografiya. He lectures regularly at the Chair of Library science of the Moscow Academy of Continuing Professional Education and works full time as Slavic area specialist at Münster University and Regional Library, Germany.

Elena Kuranda is a kandidat filologicheskikh nauk and a doctoral candidate in the Faculty of Russian Language at Moscow State Pedagogical University. She has published more than fifty articles on philology, including several for the Mandelstam Encyclopedia (V. V. Gippius, V. A. Chukovsky, and others) and methodological articles for the newspaper Литература. 1 сентября. Her research interests include the history and textology of the literature of the first third of the twentieth century.

Olesja Lagashina PhD, is a lector in the Institute of Slavic Languages and Literature, University of Tallinn. Main research interests: Russian emigration and its literature (1918–1940), historical novel, genre studies, the works of Mark Aldanov.

Pavel Lavrinec, PhD, is an Associate Professor in of the Department of Russian Philology at Vilnius University. Graduated from the Department of Russian Philology of Vilnius University in 1985 and earned his kandidat degree at the Department of Russian Philology of Moscow University in 1992. Since 2000 he has been the editor of the Baltiiskii arkhiv web site. He is author of a monograph Evgenij Šklier: žiznennyj put' skital'ca (Vilnius, 2008) and more than a hundred scholarly publications. His research interests include the history of Russian émigré literature, especially in the Baltic States, Polish-Russian and Lithuanian-Russian literary relations, and history of Russian literature in Lithuania.

Aurika Meimre is a Professor and Director of the Institute of Slavonic Languages and Cultures, Tallinn University. Research interests include Russian Culture in Estonia, XX Century Russian and Estonian History, Literature and Culture, Education. She graduated from Tallinn University with an MA, thesis Peter Pilskij in Estonia in 1922–1927 and a PhD thesis, Russian Émigré Writers in Estonia in 1918–1940: Based on the Periodical Issues. Her most recent project is “Topography of Culture: Russian Intellectuals in Estonia as a Summer-residents” (Estonian Scientific Foundation, 2007–2010).

Sirje Olesk, PhD is a historian of literature whose areas include the history of Estonian and Finnish literature and literature contacts. She is senior researcher in the Estonian Literary Museum, and has also lectured at the University of Tartu on the history of 19th and 20th century Estonian literature. In 2008–2010 she was a lecturer in Estonian literature and culture at Helsinki University. She is the co-author of the latest edition of Estonian Literary History (2001) and has published several articles and books about the subject in Estonia and Finland

Zinaida Poljak, is a kandidat filologicheskikh nauk and Associate Professor of the Department of Russian Philology of the National Pedagogical University. Research interests: XX century Russian and Kazakh Literature. She is an author of more than 60 scholarly articles (I. Bunin, A. Kuprin, A. Kushner, I. Brodski etc).

Galina Ponomareva is a kandidat filologicheskikh nauk and a Senior Researcher of the Institute of Russian and Slavic Languages and Literatures of Tallinn University. Research interests: history of Russian criticism of the 19th and early 20th centuries and Russian literature of the same period (I. Annensky, D. Merezhkovsky); the first wave of Russian emigration; the reception of Soviet literature of the 1920s and 30s; the Old Believers; the semiotics of Russian culture; Russian-Estonian literary and cultural links; and the history of Tallinn and Tartu Universities. She is co-author of the publications Русская печать и культура в Эстонии во время Второй Мировой войны (1939–1944) (with T. Shor) (Tallinn, 2009), Eesti vanausulised. Väike kirikuloo teatmik (The Old Believers of Estonia. A Brief Historical Survey [Tartu, 2006]) and more than 100 scholarly articles.

Manfred Schruba, PhD, Dr. hab., teaches Russian and Polish literature at the Slavic Department of the Ruhr-Universität Bochum, Germany. His research interests include Russian and Polish cultural history, 18th century literature, the Silver Age, Russian first wave émigré literature. His publications include the monographs Studien zu den burlesken Dichtungen V. I. Majkovs (Wiesbaden, 1997) and Literaturnye ob-edineniya Moskvoy i Peterburga 1890–1917 godov: Slovar' (Moscow, 2004); he is co-editor (with Oleg Korostelev) of the book Vokrug redakcionnogo arkhiva „Sovremennykh zapisok“ (Parizh, 1920–1940): Sbornik statej i materialov (Moscow, 2010).

Tatiana Shor is a specialist in the publications department of Estonia's Historical Archives and has written extensively on the history of Estonian culture and the Russian diaspora in the Baltic in various periods. She is co-author of the publications Русская печать и культура в Эстонии во время Второй Мировой войны (1939–1944) (with T. Shor) (Tallinn, 2009), Eesti vanausulised. Väike kirikuloo teatmik (The Old Believers of Estonia. A Brief Historical Survey [Tartu, 2006]) and more than 80 scholarly articles.

Yurii Sidyakov, Dr. Philol., is an associate professor in the Slavic Department of the University of Latvia. He specializes in the history of Russian literature of the second half of the nineteenth century and has an interest in the history of the first wave of Russian emigration. He has published some seventy articles, including: Письма И. С. Беллюстина к Н. С. Лескову, Philologia: Рижск. филол. сб., вып. 2: Словесность и эволюция культуры. Рига, 1997; О иконе (образе) в творчестве Достоевского, Poetica — D № 1: Поэтика Достоевского. Статьи и заметки. Riga: LU Akademiskais apgads, 2007; and Письма митрополита Евлогия (Георгиевского) к архиепископу Иоанну, Stanford Slavic Studies, 2004, vol. 27: Балтийско-русский сборник, кн. 1.

Grigori Utgof is the author of the prize-winning PhD dissertation, Problema sintakticheskogo tempa (The Problem of Syntactic Tempo) (2007). He studied at Tallinn University and at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. He co-edited four issues of a Tallinn-based almanac, Studia Slavica (2003, 2007, 2008, 2010), and co-authored annotations to Podvig (Glory) in Vladimir Nabokov's Sobranie sochinenii russkogo perioda: V piati tomakh (Collected Russian Works: In Five Volumes) (1999–2000). Currently, Dr. Utgof is an ESF research fellow at Tallinn University where he is doing his post-doctoral research („A Syntactic Approach to Translation Analysis“).